

Welcome to Jewish Family and Child Service

A multi-service agency that strengthens and supports individuals, children, families and communities by increasing safety and security, improving mental health and wellness and reducing the effects of poverty, within the context of Jewish values.

Since 1868, Jewish Family and Child Service has served the emotional, social and physical needs of those who need us most. We respond and reach out to our growing and diverse community with integrated programs and services for children, adults and families. For help in addressing life's challenges, look to JF&CS, every step of the way.

JF&CS welcomes people of all cultural, religious and/or racial backgrounds. While we remain firmly rooted in the traditions and experiences of the Jewish people, many of our services are open to the general community.

Inquiries and counselling are held in confidence.

JEROME D. DIAMOND ADOLESCENT CENTRE

JF&CS

JEWISH FAMILY AND CHILD
SERVICE OF GREATER TORONTO

Adolescence is often a difficult transitional period. There are bound to be some bumps along the road to adulthood.

The world is an increasingly complex place, compounding the challenges that many adolescents face.

For some, this interferes with the process of growing up, having friends, succeeding in school and being happy.

At the Jerome D. Diamond Adolescent Centre, we offer students and their families the special help they may need to meet their challenges successfully.

JF&CS is a Health Information Custodian (HIC) under the Personal Health Information Protection Act, 2004 (PHIPA) for many of its programs. JF&CS is committed to protecting individual privacy, and to maintaining the confidentiality of all personal health information (PHI).

A positive and supportive environment.

We are an adolescent mental health centre in midtown Toronto, providing a positive and supportive school environment for youth with emotional, educational, social and/or behavioural challenges.

Our day treatment program is designed to provide help and encouragement to our young people, giving them the knowledge, skills and strength to address their issues and challenges.

Though our program reflects the cultural aspects of the Jewish community, we proudly welcome youth from any socio-economic, ethnic or religious background, and with any sexual/gender orientation.

Our skilled and caring team of professionals consists of:

- social workers
- child and youth workers
- special education teachers
- consulting psychiatrists/psychologists

Our day treatment services include:

- ⇒ an education program accredited by the Toronto District School Board for up to 34 students
- ⇒ group activities including cultural, social and recreational experiences
- ⇒ individual, family, and group counselling

The primary objective of the JDD is to help our students develop improved emotional, social and behavioural skills. Our goal is successful re-integration into an appropriate community school through:

- developing interpersonal and problem-solving skills
- improving peer relationships
- acquiring important life and educational skills

Our students and their families.

Our clients are families whose child requires individualized educational and therapeutic services in a specialized environment. To be eligible for our program, students must be between 11 and 17 years old.

Admission to the Jerome D. Diamond Adolescent Centre is based on an assessment by our team, using in-depth interviews with the family. As well as a review of educational and professional records.

Thank you for your support

The Jerome D. Diamond Adolescent Centre relies on charitable donations to assist with student workshops, extra-curricular activities, field trips, a transitional support worker and many other vital needs.

To make a donation, please call 416-638-7800 x 6999 or visit us online at jfandcs.com/donate.
